Pennsbury Manor Visitor Center

Morrisville, PA

Pennsbury Manor

Interpretive Solutions developed exhibits for a new Visitor Center at Pennsbury Manor, the country home of Pennsylvania's founder William Penn. Interpretation planning involved marketing and tourism experts as well as educators, historians, and curators. The exhibits interpret the society that shaped William Penn's beliefs, and describe the impact he had on the development of American ideals of freedom and justice. Objects in the collection illustrate Penn's role as an American icon. Finally, the exhibit addresses the controversial reconstruction of Penn's Manor House, the cutting-edge preservation project of its day.

SCOPE: Historical research; interpretation; space planning; scripting; exhibit design; multimedia production; lighting design

DESIGNER: Steve Feldman Design
Bethesda, MD

COMPLETED: 2009

CLIENT: Pennsbury Manor
Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission
Morrisville, PA

Exhibit panels